Who Must File

- If you are a Full-Year Resident of the State, you must file a tax return for 2023 if, based on your Age/Status, your individual Delaware adjusted gross income (AGI) exceeds the amount shown below.

Age / Status	Filing Status			Claimed as a dependent on another person's return
	1 & 5	2	3 & 4
	Filing Status	Married filing joint	Married filing separate
Under 60	$9,400	$15,450	$9,400	$5,250
60 to 64	$12,200	$17,950	$12,200	$5,250
65 and over OR BLIND	$14,700	$20,450	$14,700	$7,750
65 and over AND BLIND	$17,200	$22,950	$17,200	$10,250

This dollar amount represents your individual Adjusted Gross Income, NOT a total combined with anyone else.

Assumes only one spouse meets age or blindness criteria.

- If you were a Part-Year Resident, you must file a Delaware tax return:
 - If you had income from any source while a resident of Delaware, or
 - If you had income from a Delaware source while you were a non-resident of Delaware.

Part-year residents may elect to file either a resident or non-resident return. You may wish to prepare both. File only the return which is more advantageous for you.

Part-Year Residents electing to file a resident return – this option may be advantageous if, during the period of non-residency, you had no income from sources in other states and/or your only income was from Delaware.

Part-Year Residents electing to file a non-resident return – This option may be advantageous if, during the period of non-residency, you had any income from other states or sources outside of Delaware. Please refer to the instructions for Form PIT-NON to review this option.

Note: Volunteer Firefighter, Child Care and Earned Income Tax Credits cannot be taken on the non-resident return (Form PIT-NON).

- If you are a Non-Resident who had gross income in 2023 from sources in Delaware, you must file a Delaware Tax return.

Who is a Resident?

A resident is an individual who either:

- Is domiciled in this State for any part of the taxable year; or
- Maintains a place of abode in this State and spends more than 183 days of the taxable year in this State.

A domicile is the place an individual intends to be his permanent home; a place to which he intends to return whenever he may be absent. An individual can have only one domicile. A domicile, once established, continues until the individual moves to a new location and exhibits a bona fide intention of making it his or her permanent home.

Full-Time Students with a legal residence in another state remain legal residents of that state unless they exhibit intentions to make Delaware their permanent residence.

NOTE*: Foreign Travelers – If you were out of the United States for at least 495 days in the last 18 consecutive months and (at the same time) you did not maintain a permanent place of abode in this State at which you, your spouse, your children, or your parents were present for more than 45 days, you are not considered a resident of this State.

*The above NOTE does not apply to members of the Armed Forces, employees of the United States, its agencies, or instrumentalities.

Minors-Disabled-Deceased Taxpayers

If an individual is unable to file a return because he is a minor or is disabled, the return shall be filed by his authorized agent, guardian, fiduciary, or the person charged with the care of the person or property of such individual. See the Federal Form 1040 instructions for those authorized to sign. If an individual is deceased, his final return shall be filed by his executor, administrator, or other person responsible for the property of the decedent. Please see Deceased Taxpayer on Page 11 for further instructions on deceased taxpayers.

When to File

Individual income tax returns are due on or before April 30, 2024 for all taxpayers filing on a calendar year basis. All others must file by the last day of the fourth month following the close of their taxable year.

Extension of Time to File a Return

⚠ CAUTION: THERE IS NO EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF TAX

An extension of time to file your tax return is granted when the Application for Automatic Extension (Form PIT-EXT) is filed prior to the due date of your return. Interest accrues on any unpaid tax at a rate of ½% per month, or fraction of a month, from the return's original due date until paid.

To extend your due date for submitting your completed income tax return (from April 30, 2024 to October 15, 2024 submit the following to the Division of Revenue no later than April 30, 2024.

- The completed copy of Form PIT-EXT; and
- Your payment of any balance of tax liability estimated to be due for tax year 2023.

The application for an automatic extension, Form PIT-EXT, may be filed on-line on our portal at tax.delaware.gov. If you owe tax with your extension for 2023 and file on-line, you may use a direct debit from your checking or savings account or pay by credit card. If you are paying by direct debit, you may specify a later payment date, up to the due date. Payments by direct debit must not come from an account outside the U.S. and may be made in any amount without dollar limitation. Payments up to $10,000 can be made by credit card. If you choose not to file online, a blank copy of Form PIT-EXT is available from the Division of Revenue or from our website.

Blanket requests for extensions will not be granted. YOU MUST submit a separate extension request for each return.

Members of Armed Forces

While you are stationed in Delaware, your military and non-military pay is subject to Delaware state income tax as follows:

Members of the Armed Forces
Are you a Legal Resident of Delaware?	Delaware Filing Required
	Military Active-Duty Income	Other Income Earned in DE	Other Income Earned in Other States
Yes	Yes*	Yes*	Yes*
No	No	Yes*	No

Whether you are stationed in Delaware or not.*

Your state of legal residence is the same as it was when you entered the Armed Forces unless you voluntarily changed it while in the Armed Forces. For example, if you were a legal resident of Delaware when you entered the Armed Forces, you remain a legal resident of Delaware for Delaware state income tax purposes unless you voluntarily abandoned your Delaware residency and established a new legal domicile in another state.

If you change your legal residence, in the year you change, you are a part-year resident of both states. A change in legal residence is documented by filing DD Form 2058 and DD Form 2058-1 with your military personnel office.

The following examples illustrate this:

1. Airman John Green, who is a legal resident of Delaware (domiciled in Delaware), was ordered to duty in, and moved his family to, New Jersey. The family has no income other than Green's military pay. Airman Green will file a federal and Delaware Resident tax return only. A New Jersey state tax return is not required.
2. Sergeant Paul Smith, whose domicile is Ohio, to which he is liable for income taxes, has been on active duty in Delaware for 12 months. Sergeant Smith is single and has non-military income from Delaware. Sergeant Smith will file as a non-resident of Delaware (using Form PIT-NON) reporting all his income in Column A. He will deduct his military compensation from his Delaware Non-Resident Return as a federal adjustment to gross income. (Column A, Line 16.) Sergeant Smith should contact Ohio for his filing requirements for Ohio.

Military Spouses

All income of a non-military spouse is taxed in the state of their legal residence. The following examples illustrate this:

1. Airman Dan Brown and his spouse are legal residents of Delaware (domiciled in Delaware). Airman Brown was ordered to duty in, and moved with his spouse to, New Jersey. Besides Airman Brown's military pay, his spouse has New Jersey source wages. Airman Brown and his spouse will file both a federal and Delaware Resident tax return reporting both military and nonmilitary income. A New Jersey state tax return is not required.
2. Sergeant Michael Jones, whose domicile is not Delaware, has been on active duty in Delaware for 12 months. Sergeant Jones is married, and his spouse has non-military income from Delaware. If Sergeant Jones' spouse maintains a legal residence in a state other than Delaware, a Delaware state tax return will not be required. Sergeant Jones and his spouse should contact their state of legal residence for their filing requirements.

A military spouse claiming an exemption from Delaware's income Tax withholding requirements must complete an Annual Withholding Tax Exemption Certification Form, Form W-4DE, and provide it to their employer. This form is also available on our website at revenue.delaware.gov. A military spouse claiming an exemption must meet the conditions set forth under the Service Members Civil Relief Act, as amended by the Military Spouses Residency Relief Act.

Requirement to File Estimated Taxes

Every person who is either a resident of Delaware or has income from Delaware sources may be required to file quarterly Declarations of Estimated Tax to the Delaware Division of Revenue if the Delaware tax liability less payments and credits can reasonably be expected to exceed $800 (See worksheet on page 4).

You may be required to make estimated tax payments if you receive unemployment compensation, a lump sum distribution, or a large bonus at the end of the year.

You may also be required to make estimated tax payments if you are a Delaware resident and:

- Your employer does not withhold Delaware tax or
- You work in another state whose tax withholding rate is lower than Delaware's.

The estimated tax instructions contain the worksheet for computing your estimated tax liability and will be available after January 15, 2024. If you need estimated tax coupons, you may find them on our website at revenue.delaware.gov/personal-income-tax-forms/, leave a message on the forms voice mailbox at (302) 577-8588 to request them, or call toll free 1-800-292-7826 (Delaware only).

Estimated tax payments may be made on-line at tax.delaware.gov by direct debit from your checking or savings account or by credit card. If you are paying by direct debit you may specify a later payment date, up to the due date. Payments through direct debit must be from a U.S. account and can be of any amount without a dollar limit. Payments up to $10,000 can be made by credit card. If you want to pay by check, you must use the paper form PIT-EST available on our website at revenue.delaware.gov.

When to Make Your Estimated Tax Payment

For estimated tax purposes, the year is divided into four payment periods. Each period has a specific payment due date as indicated below:

Who Must File Estimated Taxes for 2024?

To determine if you must pay estimated income tax payment complete the following:

1. Enter the amount of your total estimated tax liability for 2024 (See the tax table or tax rate schedule). _____ 1
2. Enter the amount of your estimated Delaware withholding taxes and other credits for 2024. _____ 2
3. Enter the balance due (Line 1 minus Line 2). _____ 3
4. You DO NOT have to file estimated taxes if:
 - Line 3 is less than $800, or
 - Line 2 is at least 90% of Line 1, or
 - Line 2 is at least equal to 100% of your total tax liability for 2023. If your 2023 Delaware AGI exceeded $150,000, or if you are filing status 3 and your 2023 Delaware AGI exceeded $75,000, line 2 must at least equal 110% of your 2023 tax liability.

For the Period:	The payment due date is:
1/1/2024 through 3/31/2024	April 30, 2024
4/1/2024 through 5/31/2024	June 17, 2024
6/1/2024 through 8/31/2024	September 16, 2024
9/1/2024 through 12/31/2024	January 15, 2025

For more information concerning estimated taxes or to access the payment voucher and worksheet, visit tax.delaware.gov, or call (302) 577-8200.

Estimated Tax Penalty

You may owe this penalty if the amount you owe (Line 40, Balance Due) is more than 10% of the tax shown on your return (Line 32, Balance).

Exceptions to the Penalty

You will not owe the penalty if your 2023 tax return was for a period of 12 full months AND ONE of the following applies:

1. You had no tax liability for 2022 (Line 16), or
2. The total of Line 31 (Total Non-Refundable Credits), Line 33 (Earned Income Tax Credit) and Line 39 (Total Refundable Credits) on your 2023 return equals at least 100% of the tax liability shown on your 2022 return and estimated tax payments for 2023 were made on time. Use 110% of your 2022 tax liability if your 2022 Delaware AGI exceeded $150,000, or if you are filing status 3 and your 2022 Delaware AGI exceeded $75,000.
3. For Special Rules regarding Farmers and Fishermen and for waivers of the penalty, please see the separate instructions for Form PIT-EST and/or Form PIT-UND.

Penalties and Interest

1. Interest – Underpayment or late payment

The Delaware Code provides that interest on any underpayment or late payment of income taxes due shall accrue at the rate of ½% per month, from the date prescribed for payments to the date paid.

2. Penalty – Late-filing of balance due return

The law imposes substantial penalties for failure to file a timely return. Late-filed returns with a balance due are subject to a penalty of 5% per month of the balance due.

3. Penalty – Negligence/fraud/substantial understatement

The law also provides severe penalties for filing a false or fraudulent return, or for a false certification. The mere fact that the figures you report on your Delaware return are taken from your Federal return will not relieve you from the imposition of penalties for negligence or for filing a false or fraudulent return.

4. Penalty – Failure to pay

The law provides a penalty of 1% per month (not to exceed 25%) of the net tax liabilities for failure to pay the tax liability due on a timely filed or late-filed return. This penalty is in addition to the interest charged for late payment.

5. Penalty – Failure to File/Pay Estimated Taxes

The law provides a penalty of 1½% per month of the computed tax payment for failure to file/pay estimated taxes due. This penalty is in addition to those penalties and interest listed above. The penalty is also assessed if an estimated payment is filed late.

Federal Privacy Act Information

Taxpayer IDs must be included on your income tax return. The mandatory disclosure of your Taxpayer ID is authorized by Section 306, Title 30 of the Delaware Code. Such numbers are used primarily to administer and enforce all tax laws, both civil and criminal, for which the Division of Revenue has statutory responsibility.

Amended Returns

If any changes made to your federal return affect your state income tax liability, you are required to report the change to the Delaware Division of Revenue within ninety (90) days after the final determination of such a change and indicate your agreement with the determination or the grounds of your disagreement. Use Form PIT-RES to change an income tax return you have filed and attach a copy of any federal adjustments.

Rounding Off Dollars

Dollar amounts on your return must be rounded off to the nearest whole dollar. This means that amounts from 50 to 99 cents are increased to the next dollar. For example, $1.50 becomes $2.00 and $1.49 becomes $1.00.

Address Change

If you move after you file your return, you should notify the Division of Revenue of your address change in writing. Please be sure to include your and your spouse's Taxpayer ID(s) in any correspondence with the Division of Revenue.

Name, Address and Taxpayer ID

Print your name(s), address, and taxpayer ID(s) in the space provided. If you are married, give names and taxpayer ids for both you and your spouse whether you file joint or separate returns. If you are a Jr., Sr., II, III, etc., please indicate it in the Jr., Sr., III, box.

If either the primary taxpayer or spouse is deceased, the surviving spouse information should be entered first under "Your Taxpayer ID and Your Last Name". The deceased person's data should be entered under "Spouse's Taxpayer ID and Spouse's Last Name". Also, write DECD after their first name. For an example, please see Page 11.

Filing Status

Please indicate your filing status by marking the appropriate box.

FILING STATUS 1 – SINGLE TAXPAYER

If you were single on December 31, 2023, consider yourself Single for the whole year and use Filing Status 1.

FILING STATUS 2, 3, AND 4 – MARRIED TAXPAYERS

You may file Joint, Separate, or Combined Separate Delaware returns. If you use Filing Status 4, you are in fact filing two separate returns which have been combined on the same form for convenience.

NOTE: Generally, separate returns (filing status 3 or 4) will be advantageous if both spouses have Delaware adjusted gross income in excess of $9,400.

If you elect to use Filing Status 3 or 4, both you and your spouse must compute your taxable income the same way. This means if one itemizes deductions, the other must itemize. If one takes the standard deduction, the other must take the standard deduction in computing taxable income.

If you elect to use Filing Status 3, you must include your spouse's name and taxpayer ID on your return.

For Filing Status 3 or 4, you must each report your own income, personal credits, deductions, and one-half of the income derived from securities, bank accounts, real estate, etc., which are titled or registered in joint names.

FILING STATUS 5 – HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

If you filed as Head of Household on your federal return or qualify as certain married persons living apart, you may file as Head of Household on your Delaware return.

Part Year Residents

If you were a part-year resident of Delaware in 2023 electing to file as a full-year resident, indicate the dates of your Delaware residency.

PIT-UND Indicator

Check the "Form PIT-UND Attached" box and attach a copy of Form PIT-UND to your return if you have calculated the underpayment of estimated taxes and an estimated penalty is due OR if you completed Part 3. Use Form PIT-UND to determine if you owe a penalty for the underpayment of estimated tax and to calculate the amount of the penalty.

To obtain Form PIT-UND, please contact our offices or visit the Division of Revenue website at revenue.delaware.gov. Do NOT check this box if a completed Form PIT-UND (Pages 1 and 2) is not being sent with your return. Do NOT submit a Federal Form 2210 instead of a Form PIT-UND. Do not submit computer worksheets in lieu of Form PIT-UND.

Line-by-Line Instructions

Next, complete the front of the form beginning with Line 1. Instructions below.

Section A - Additions

Line 1 Federal Adjusted Gross Income

If you are using filing status 1, 2 or 5, enter your Federal Adjusted Gross Income from Federal Form 1040, Line 11 into Column B. If you were not required to file a federal return, complete Federal Form 1040 to determine your federal adjusted gross income. If you are using Filing Status 3 or 4, use the worksheet on page 6 to assist in separating income, losses, and deductions between spouses. You must each report your own income, losses, and deductions, and one-half of income derived from securities, bank accounts, real estate, etc., which are titled or registered in joint names.

Line 2 Interest on State and Local Obligations other than Delaware

Interest you received from any obligations of States other than Delaware, or their political subdivisions is taxable and must be added on Line 2.

Examples of interest that is taxable:

- Interest received on Pennsylvania Turnpike Bonds.
- Mutual fund dividends not included on Line 1 that are attributable to interest on state or local obligations (minus those attributable to the State of Delaware and its authorities and political subdivisions provided the mutual fund reports that amount to you in writing).

Line 3 Fiduciary Adjustments, Oil Percentage Depletion

Net additions from fiduciary adjustments derived from income received from an estate or trust as shown on Federal Form K-1, Beneficiary's Share of Federal Income and Deductions, should be included on Line 3.

Oil Percentage Depletion

The law provides for the disallowance of any percentage depletion deduction allowable under federal law, to the extent it is in excess of cost depletion. Add the excess to the amount of fiduciary adjustments and enter the total on Line 3.

Section B - Subtractions

Line 5 Interest Received on U.S. Obligations

Interest received on obligations of the United States included on your federal tax return is exempt from Delaware tax and should be entered on Line 5. Failure to identify the payor on Federal Schedule B will result in the disallowance of the deduction. Interest received on obligations for which the United States is NOT the primary obligor, or which are NOT guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the United States is not exempt from tax and may not be entered on Line 5 (Examples are shown in the table below).

If the distribution code listed in Box 7 of your 1099 R is a 1 (one), or if you were assessed an early withdrawal penalty on Federal 1040, Schedule 2, Line 8 for the distribution, then that distribution DOES NOT qualify for the pension exclusion.

Pension Exclusion for Individuals Under 60

IF YOU WERE UNDER 60 on December 31, 2023 and retired from the United States military and received pension income during the year, your exclusion equals $12,500 or the amount of your pension, whichever is less. Please check the box indicating your pension is from the United States military.

IF YOU WERE UNDER 60 on December 31, 2023, and you receive a non-military pension, your exclusion equals $2,000 or the amount of your pension, whichever is less.

IF YOU WERE 60 OR OVER on December 31, 2023, your exclusion is determined as follows:

1. Amount of pension	$	_____
2. Amount of "eligible retirement income" (See definition below)	$	_____
3. Total (add lines 1 and 2)	$	_____
4. Enter Line 3 or $12,500, whichever is less here and on Line 6	$	_____

Eligible retirement income includes dividends, capital gains net of capital losses, interest, net rental income from real property and qualified retirement plans (IRC Sec. 4974), such as IRA, 401(k), Keogh plans, and government deferred compensation plans (IRC Sec. 457).

NOTE: Each taxpayer may receive ONLY ONE pension exclusion, even if he or she is receiving more than one pension or other retirement distribution. Spouses who each receive pensions are entitled to one exclusion each.

Disability pension income paid by your employer is reported as wages on the federal return, until you reach the minimum retirement age. Minimum retirement age generally is the age at which you can first receive a pension or annuity if you are not disabled. Therefore, disability pension income would not qualify for the pension exclusion.

Pension Exclusion Example: The primary taxpayer received $10,000 in pension income. The secondary taxpayer received no pension income. The taxpayers had joint bank accounts and mutual fund accounts. They earned $5,000 in interest from the bank, $1,000 in dividends and $3,000 in capital gains. The income from these joint accounts would be split equally between the two taxpayers.

Both taxpayers, in this example, are over 60 years old. The primary taxpayer has $14,500 of eligible retirement income (10,000+2,500+500+1,500=14,500), so the pension exclusion for the primary taxpayer is $12,500, the maximum exclusion. The eligible retirement income of the secondary taxpayer is $4,500 (2,500+500+1,500= 4,500), so the secondary taxpayer is entitled to a pension exclusion of $4,500. The secondary taxpayer cannot include in the pension exclusion calculation the amount by which the primary taxpayer exceeded the $12,500 maximum exclusion. When filing a joint return, the combined exclusion for the primary and secondary taxpayer would be $17,000 (12,500+4,500).

Please remember to enclose the 1099R forms and other supporting schedules to support your pension exclusion.

NOTE: If you claimed a standard deduction on your federal return, you may still elect to itemize your deductions on the Delaware return. In this case, complete and attach Form PIT-RSA.

NOTE: Do not enter motor vehicle title, realty transfer tax fees or transfer fees as other taxes. They do not qualify.

Line 13 Total Itemized Deductions from Form PIT-RSA (Must attach Form PIT-RSA)

Enter the total amount of itemized deductions shown on Form PIT-RSA. All federal limitations apply to the calculation of Delaware itemized deductions. See Instructions on page 11.

If you are unable to specifically allocate deductions between spouses, prorate the deductions based on the ratio of each spouse's separate income to the total joint income. For example, if one spouse earns 60% of the household income, allocate 60% of the itemized deductions to that spouse and the other 40% of the itemized deductions to the spouse earning 40% of the household income. Enter the allocated itemized deductions on line 17b in the respective columns.

Line 18 Net Itemized Deduction

Calculate the amount of your net itemized deductions by subtracting Line 17 from Line 16.

Line 19a Standard Deduction

The law allows you to take a standard deduction in lieu of itemizing your deductions. If you elect to take the Delaware STANDARD DEDUCTION, be sure to check the box on Line 19a and enter the appropriate amount as listed below:

Line 24 Lump Sum Distribution

A qualified lump sum distribution is the payment of the entire balance from a qualified plan (for example, pension, profit-sharing or stock bonus plans). The payments must all be received in the same tax year.

This form applies, in the case of someone who is not self-employed, only when the distribution (defined above) was made:

- Due to the participant's death;
- Due to the participant's separation from employment; or
- After the participant had attained age 59½.

In the case of a self-employed person, this form applies only when the distribution (defined above) was made:

- Due to the participant's death;
- After the participant had attained age 59 ½; or
- The participant was previously disabled.

An early distribution from an IRA or pension fund for emergency reasons or following a separation from employment does not qualify for the pension exclusion. If the distribution code listed in Box 7 of your 1099 R is a 1 (one), or if you were assessed an early withdrawal penalty on Federal 1040, Schedule 2, Line 6 for the distribution, then that distribution DOES NOT qualify for the pension exclusion. Please attach the appropriate forms with your return.

Line 26a Personal Credits

Enter the total number of dependents listed on your federal return, multiply by $110 and enter the total on Line 26a. If you are married and filing a combined separate return (Filing Status 4), split the total between Columns A and B in increments of $110. You are still eligible for this credit even though you do not recognize personal exemptions on your federal return.

NOTE: You are not entitled to a Delaware Personal Credit if you are listed as a dependent on another individual's Federal return. Enter "0" in the space provided on Line 26a. Please mark the box on the front of the return indicating you are a dependent on another's return.

If you are married and filing separate returns (Filing Status 3), allocate dependents to each return and multiply by $110, entering the total for each return in Column B. Please see example below. All other filing statuses place the total in Column B.

If you were not required to file a federal return, enter $110 for each spouse reporting income plus $110 for each person who could have been listed as a dependent had you been required to file a federal return. Allocate the total personal credits for your filing status as described in the paragraph above.

If you and/or your spouse were 60 years of age or over on December 31, 2023, check the appropriate box(es), multiply the number of boxes checked by $110, and enter the total on Line 26b.

If you claim a credit for taxes paid to another state, you must attach a signed copy of the income tax return filed with the other state(s). In addition, your Delaware return information will be shared with the other state(s) for which you claimed the credit.

If you are claiming a credit for taxes paid to more than one State, you must complete Form PIT-RSS Schedule I and attach it to your Resident return. Section E – Direct Deposit Information

Direct Deposit or Refund

Complete Section E if you want us to directly deposit the amount shown on Line 46, Form PIT-RES into your bank account. Refunds may not be direct deposited to a bank account outside the U.S.

Why Use Direct Deposit?

- You get your refund fast – even faster if you file online.
- Payment is more secure – there is no check to get lost.
- More convenient. No trip to the bank to deposit your check.

Check with your financial institution to make sure your deposit will be accepted and to obtain the correct routing and account numbers.

Delaware College Investment Plan (529 Plan)

Individuals can deposit their State income tax refund directly into a 529 Plan account. To obtain information on Delaware's Plan or how to contribute go to savingforcollege.com and select the State of Delaware in the US map area. For routing and account number information, please contact the financial institution that administers your 529 Plan.

Routing Number

The routing number must be nine digits. The first two digits must be 01 through 12 or 21 through 32. Otherwise, the direct deposit will be rejected and a check will be issued instead. On the sample check on page 11, the routing number is 031100000.

Your check may state that it is payable through a bank different from the financial institution at which you have your checking account. If so, do not use the routing number on that check. Instead, contact your financial institution for the correct routing number to enter on this line.

Type

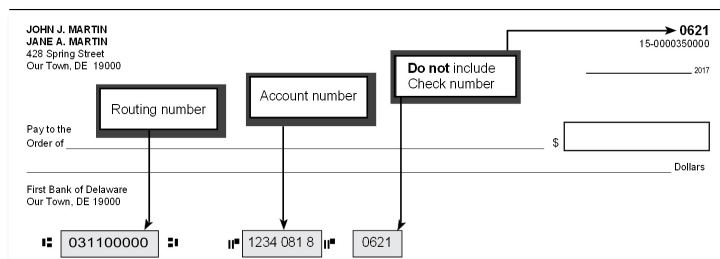

Please check the type of account: checking or savings.

Bank Account Number

The account number can be up to 17 characters (both numbers and letters). Include hyphens but omit spaces and special symbols. Enter the number from left to right and leave any unused boxes blank. On the sample check, the account number is 12340818. Be sure not to include the check number.

In order to comply with new federal banking rules, you must declare whether your refund will go to a bank account outside the United States. If the answer is yes, do not enter your account information. We will instead mail your refund by check.

Sample Check

NOTE: Some financial institutions will not deposit joint refunds into an individual account. The Delaware Division of Revenue is not responsible if a financial institution refuses a direct deposit.
